The Sons of Veterans.

George As Custer Camp, 1, Sons of Veterans, Division of Washington and Alaska, is making an earnest movement to change the name of the Order to "Sons of the G. A.R." The resolution says that the term "veteran" has become so common that it has ceased to be distinctive of the sons of the veter-ans of the civil war, and that the name should be changed to make it more descriptive. George A, Custer Camp is circularizing all the other Camps with its view, and this circular is received with approval by Charles B. Wood,

Commander of the Division of Wash ington and Alaska, Sons of Veterans. The change seems desirable, but wheth-

They had a very fine band of 28 pieces, which was regarded as the of 2s pieces, which was regarded as the third best band in the army at that time. On the morning when President Lincoln died the band received orders to play sacred or funeral music in the afternoon, and they played two hours at the east side of the State House in Columbus. When Lincoln's body was brought to Columbus and laid in state Generals and guards on each side of the coffin and thousands of people solemnly walking thru to take a last look at our beloved President, the band played, and after that played at the ead of the grand funeral procession thru the principal streets to the depot Comrade Selz also played at the Gar-field and McKinley funerals.
